UNNECESSARY ALARM.

There is, we think, unnecessary alarm on the part of some people that the social agitation regarding the Chinese on this coast may develop revolutionary tendencies. It must be remembered that no great social, political or economic changes or accomplishments have ever been effected without some apparent disorder. The greatest attainments by society in reforms have been marked by sudden convulsions, by phases of excitement, and by apparent throes of menacing character. The social body does not reject that which makes it ill without some evidences of suffering, no social or economic rising against a distinct governing power. The right to modify policies in a free government resides with that sovereign, the citizen, who is not subject to any assault from a force back of him, since he is at once ruler and ruled. Out of excitement and agitation reforms are worked in this country, and through people of this coast is so strong against Chinese immigration does not to us indicate the danger of any uprising of a revolutionary character. The whole movement appears to be that the moral force and the inherent power of the governed acting upon the agencies of government in methods that only in sporadic cases are manifest by violence. NEW YORK, November 18th .- A Herald special from Quitman, Ga., says: The building used as a colored female seminary town was destroyed by fire at o'clock this morning. Several months ago the Northern Methodists purchased the ilding, which was situated in the most esirable part of the town. The citizens bjected strongly to the location of a negro stitute on the site, and every effort was nade to effect an agreement which would change its location. Soon after the opening f the school an unsuccesul attempt was Huntington's Contribution to Galveston made to assassinate the principal. No lives were lost by last night's fire, the origin of which is a mystery. Mrs. Rutherford B Hayes is said to be interested in the school. In connection with the above the follow- $5,000 in aid of the sufferers from the reing, which appears in this morning's Tribne, shows the race prejudice still strong in Distributors of Boycott Literature Arof a Board of Trust, of which ex-President Hayes is President. Senator Colquitt, of Georgia, is Vice-President. Through the influence of the latter a Methodist preacher of Georgia was made agent for the distribution of the fund in the South. It is stated that $10,000 has been applied by this Board of Trust to the Methodist College in Georgia, of which the agent was formerly President, and in which Colquitt is interested. There are no negroes educated in that college. It would be well to know, if possible, how Slater's money is distributed. It is suspected that Slater's money is to be managed by Southern Methodist politicians for many purposes, and all the negroes will get will have a strong political squint before they see it.

Letter from Louis Riel.

NEW YORK, November 18th.-The Irish letter from Louis Riel, under date of Ba-touche, May 6th last. The editor prefaces t by saying that it reached him May 18th, that Riel was then a prisoner and that its publication was withheld lest it should prejudice Riel's case. It contains nothing new, being devoted to a repetition of the oft-told tale of the half-breed's wrongs and to a denunciation of England and English-men. He accuses them of land robberies in the Northwest, in Ireland, Scotland, India, Australia and islands of the Indian Ocean. Even the United States, he says, has permitted them to recorquer, without at work in the north vein of the Colby protest, by occupancy for cattle-grazing, enough to make several large States, and charges President Cleveland and Secretary Bayard with putting the United States in the position of an ally of England in put-ting down the Northwest rebellion by llowing British soldiers and ammunition o pass over American railroads and per-Queen's Own the use of the Gatling gun.

Willard C. Merrill, Dr. John L. Kaine and other prominent citizens are said to be in favor of the projected enterprise. George L. Thomas, the undertaker, is also interested in the scheme. The latter said this morning that he had had interviews with several Milwaukee capitalists, who are in favor of burning dead bodies rather than burying them, and that he had little douht, from the tenor of their conversation, that they will go into the enterprise. He felt confident, he said, that a crematory would be said, that a crematory would be erected in Mil-waukee in the coming spring. There are a large number of cremationists in Mil-

> STATE PRISON DIRECTORS. The Question of Jute Manufacture at San Quentin Discussed. The Board of State Prison Directors me t San Quentin Tuesday evening, Directors Boggs, Sonntag, Wilkins and Devlin being present. Bills for October were pre ented, amounting to $17.248 21. A letter from Johnson & Co. was read otifying the Warden that that firm would scontinue the manufacture of leather arness, etc., on January 1st. The Warder explained that Johnson & Co. said they could not carry on the business at a profit, as the country is overstocked with the class of goods manufactured at the prison.

The Warden reported about 1,000 bales of ite on hand, worth $14,000, and $40,000 worth of manufactured goods. If the manufacture of jute is to be continued, the ite must be ordered by steamer, as the stock on hand would only last about two and a half months. He was in favor of closing the jute mill a few months ago, but the Board did not think best. If the Board would give some instructions he would ad vise keeping it running. To shut down now would disorganize the force, which would be a detriment, as the mill was never inning better than now. Devlin suggested making up the presentock into bags and borrowing money or Sonntag said if the present stock wa o go in the treasury for money to pay for Devlin said it had been stated that every-body importing bags had lost money. This state of affairs could not last. If the State went out of the business it would be re-ported abroad and said that the mills were a failure. If we continue others will be deterred from manufacturing and selling at a loss, and the State could sell here. Here loss, and the State could sell bags. It ing could secure the trade. The Board ad ourned for one day.

ANCIENT MEXICAN OFFICIAL SEALS, the State of California. In reference to th seals of the Mexican Government of the Department of California, which were seized with other Government property by the Americans in 1846, the San Francisco Alta of November 11, 1857, said: There ar Alta of November 11, 1857, said: There are three of these seals—one, the seal of the "Gobierno," or Government; second, the seal of the "Junta Departmental," or Territorial Legislature; and the third is the maritime seal, or seal of the Custom-house. These seals fell into the possession of Gen Riley, when he became the Military Governor of California, and they remained in his possession until he gave up the power on the formation of the State govern When he abdicated they were transferred to a gentleman, who has had them in hi possession until within a few days ago, a which time they were brought to San Fran-cisco. It is supposed that a large propor-tion of the titles offered to the United States heavy. The same trouble is reported in the vicinity of Fifth and Q streets that has that their counterfeit character will be readily discoverable and provable by mean of the false seals and some other plain indi cations of fraud. It is said that an examination of all the titles filed in the Surveyor and which are genuine.

An effort was made to find him, but unsuccessfully. two young people are widely known in this community, and number their sincerfriends by the hundreds. Mr. Ray is Sacramentan "born and bred," and one of the sterling and highly esteemed young business men of this city. Miss McGann has long been a successful teacher in the city school department, and for amiability, generous disposition, and intelligence and wit, is the pride of a wide circle of admiring friends. The young people have gone into a life partnership with as many sincere wishes sent with them for their u prosperity and happiness as fall to the lo

Jackets That Are Just Charming.

We open to-day a line of Ladies' Walking Jackets, which in point of style are quite in advance of anything hitherto seen in Sacramento.

They are made of a soft elastic cloth, with a rough shaggy finish, not unlike that of the boucle cloths now so popular. The only trimming is a wide plain braid and two bronze clasps at the neck.

The chief novelty in these garments, however, lies in the jaunty air which the peculiar shape gives them. The sides are cut so as to scarcely extend below the waist. In front they merge into two deep points, and behind into what is currently termed "a full postillion back." The front is fastened with a close row of small silk-covered buttons.

"Just charming," we overheard a lady exclaim, as we paused to gather this bit of

SCROFULA OF LUNGS

I am now 49 years old, and have suffered for the last fifteen years with a lung trouble. I have spent thousands of dollars to arrest the march of this disease; but temporary relief was all that I obtained. I was unfit for any manual labor for several years. A friend strongly recommended the use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), claiming that he himself had been greatly benefited by its use in some lung troubles. I resolved to try it. The results are remarkable. My cough has left me, my strength has returned, and I weigh sixty pounds more than I ever did in my life. It has been three years since I stopped the use of the medicine, but I have had no return of the disease, and there are no pains or weakness felt in my lungs. I do the hardest kind of mechanical work, and feel as well as I ever felt since I was a boy. These, I know, are wonderful statements to make, but I am honest when I say that I owe my existence and health to-day I am now 49 years old, and have suffered for say that I owe my existence and health to-da to S. S. S. I would be recreant to the duty I ow to humanity if I failed to bear this cheerful tes timony to the merits of this wonderful med

Has Upon the California Cases. [S. F. Bulletin, November 18th.]

A lawyer familiar with the litigation in Kentucky, were decided on last Monday by the Supreme Court of the United States. The decision of the Kentucky Court was against the railroad companies. The opinions of Judges Field and Sawyer in the San Mateo and Santa Clara cases were cited in the Kentucky Court, and the Judges in their opinion commented upon them, conceding generally their correctness as applicable to the facts of the California tax ceding generally their correctness as applicable to the facts of the California tax cases, but held that the cases which they had under consideration were not within the principles of those decisions. The Supreme Court of the United States in its decision substantially follows that of the Kentucky Courts. The decision in the Kentucky Courts. The decision in the Kentucky Case is, substantially, that the Fourteenth Amendment, which provides that 'no State shall deprive any person of lie, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law." is applicable to the taxing power, and does prevent the assessment of a tax without due notice and converting to the case of law, not deny to any person within and does prevent the assessment of a tax without due notice and converting to the case of law, nor deny to any person of the law." is applicable to the taxing power, and does prevent the assessment of a tax without due notice and converting to the case of law, nor deny to any person within any location of $5,000 from Mr. Sharon's a subscription books have not yet been placed in the hands of the canty yet been placed in the Fourteenth Amendment, which provides that "no State shall deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law," is applicable to the taxing power, and does prevent the assessment of a tax without due position and does prevent the assessment of a tax without due position and does prevent the assessment of a tax without due position and the provides and the prov without due notice and opportunity to heard. The Supreme Court also decides, as did the Circuit Court of California, that fair. It is thought that this will add interest to the exhibition.

tribunal assessed one class of property and another tribunal another class, did not of in the meaning of the Fourteenth Amend-In the Kentucky cases the construction of a statute of a State was involved, which the Supreme Court of Kentucky and the Supreme Court of the United States both held did provide for notice and did give an opportunity to be heard. California cases the power exercised by the State Board of Equalization is exercised under a provision of the new Constitution, which the Supreme Court of the State of California has decided to be self-executing, and that under it the assessment can be made at any time and any ment can be made at any time and any place and without notice to the parties in-terested. The decision of the State Su-preme Court of California is binding upon the Supreme Court of the United States, so far as it construes the provisions of our State Constitution; or, in other words, the Supreme Court of the United States, when it comes to consider the California tax cases, will, according to its rule, follow the interpretation of the Supreme Court of the stitution is self-executing, and that it does not provide for notice nor give the parties an opportunity to be heard. The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the railroad tax cases may be summed up as follows:

Fourteenth Amendment are applicable to and do limit the power of the State in relation to State taxation. Second-That no assessment is valid unless the law or Constitution under which the assessment is made provides for notice, and given an opportunity to be heard. Third-That the State may classify property for the purposes of taxation, but that law must operate equally upon all property The first and second proposition seem to be decisive in favor of the California rail-

The third proposition is equally so, for under the provisions of the California Constitution railroad property is not classified and is not assessed alike. For instance, all locomotives, all rolling-stock are not as-

The Supreme Court in the Kentucky cases also holds that there can be no dis-crimation between the same classes of property. This is in the same line as the to the deduction of mortgages from the assessed value of lands, which deduction is $800,000 now in his hands, the issues of fac their land and railroad property.

Judge Sanderson, we are informed, who was present when the decision was ren-dered, telegraphs that there is nothing in the decision antagonizing the opinions of Judges Field and Sawyer in the San Mateo and Santa Clara cases.

TO THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL. Letter from Hon. Creed Haymond Concerning the Pending Suits.

[San Francisco Post, November 18th.] The following letter in reference to recent and pending proceedings in the tax cases was received by Attorney-General Marshall to-day:

San Francisco, November 14, 1885.

Hon. E. C. Marshall, Attorney General of the State of California—Sir: I see by the newspapers that the State of California—Sir: I see by the newspapers that the State of California, by its Controller, denies the right of the railroad company to pay any taxes unless the same are legarly assessed, and that objection is made to covering into the State Treasury any moneys which the railroad companies have voluntarily paid. The railroad company, before the adoption of the new Constitution, never had much litigation relative to taxation, and in the only cases of the kind that I can find did, after they were successful, pay without objection from the State or county authorities, a fair and just sum; although it had been decided that no legal tax had been levied. The railroad companies, after the adoption of the new Constitution, believing that its provisions relative to the taxation of railroad property situated in two or more counties were unjust and unlawful, did, as any citizen has the right in this free country to do, ask the Courts of the country to determine whether the citizen could under any pretext be deprived of his property without an opportunity to be heard in its defense. They also claimed that their property ought not in justice to be assessed for double its cash value while all other property in the State was assessed much less than its cash value. In order that no other motive might be attributed to them than the desire to settle this SAN FRANCISCO, November 14, 1885. State was assessed much less than its cash value. In order that no other motive might be attributed to them than the desire to settle this question and to do what justice and good conscience required, they at all times proclaimed their intention to pay as a tax, whatever might be the result of the litigation, what all fairminded men would deem just. They pressed the cases as rapidly as possible, though every obstacle was thrown in their way. When the Spring Valley Water Company and the San Francisco Gas Company settled their taxes at the face thereof, and to which there never seemed to be any objection, certain newspapers inimical to the railroad companies claimed that if the railroad companies intended fair dealing they would do the same thing. This the companies did, except in so far as action was prevented by the State. The taxes of 1889, 1881 and 1882 were paid on this basis, except in certain counties.

ily for five years is more than double ant per mile ever paid by any single and in the Union, and these payments the amount per mile ever paid by any single-track road in the Union, and these payments run into the millions. I challenge you to show in the history of the country a record so favorable to any corporation or person. In none of these proceedings have the railroad companies ever taken a technical advantage. They have-as never has been done before—voluntarily paid a tax far greater than in good conscience they should have been charged with. They tendered to the State Controller and Treasurer for the last two years nearly double what would have been due had the assessment been legal and fair. They kept this tender good, and when the plaintiffs moved in the Circuit Court that the money be paid to the plaintiff's attorney, the Court made the order and the money was paid. If it be a crime for the citizen to perform all his obligations cannot be legally enforced, then the railroad companies are guilty. This question may be safely left to the judgment of an intelligent and honest people, and to such tribunal it is cheerfully submitted. Misrepresentation may for a time avail designing men, but truth and justice always in the end prevail.

A pretense is made in some quarters that the railroad companies have in some quarters that the railroad companies have in some manner gained a legal advantage by making the part payments. That even this filmsy pretense may be removed, I am willing at any time to receive the money—about $1,000,000—which you have held so long, and to stipulate that the orders under which the payments were made shall be set aside, and that the cases shall stand as though the order and payments had never been made.

Very respectfully yours,

The receipts of California wine at New York by steamer in October amounted to 97,122 gallons, against an average of 72,000 callons for the corresponding month in the previous two years. For the ten months ding October 31st, the receipts by water were 907,300 gallons, against an average of 72,000 gallons for the same period in the previous two years. Most of the California wine for New York is sent by rail, and hence the above figures only imperfectly show the extent of the trade.
